Welcome to contactless technology

Your new HSBC contactless card works with a growing network of contactless readers across the UK and overseas. Which means you can pay for small items, without entering your PIN. It's just another handy feature we've included to help make your day smoother.

It's the latest way to pay

Contactless readers are popping up all over the country. This method is the new way to pay for small things like magazines, or coffees. Contactless payments can be made for purchases up to $40, wherever you see the contactless logo.

Going contactless

Look for the contactless logo

Shops that have contactless will all display this logo, so start looking out for it.

Tap and go

Touch the reader with your card. Your payment will be confirmed, then you're good to go.

If you would like a non-contactless card please contact us.

Enjoy life in the fast lane

Who likes to fiddle about with loose change? One of the best things about contactless payments is that they are fast. Most payments take less than a second so there's little chance of your coffee getting cold when there are contactless readers about.

But also secure

Contactless is safe and secure as your card always stays in your possession. The system's advanced technology also means you don't need to worry about accidental double payments either.

Contactless transactions use the latest encryption technology, and are processed through the same, reliable payment network as Chip and PIN transactions – making them just as secure.

You will need to make at least one chip and pin transaction before contactless is enabled. In addition, as an extra precaution, you may be asked to enter your PIN to confirm your identity from time to time.

Fast. Easy. Secure
